Explore the dramatic landscapes of Devon and Somerset on the classic Two Moors Way, a 188km (117 mile) long-distance route linking the wild uplands of Dartmoor and Exmoor. Running from Ivybridge on the southern edge of Dartmoor to Lynmouth on the North Devon coast, the trail crosses open moorland, wooded valleys, historic villages and rolling farmland, showcasing some of south-west England's finest walking country.

This map booklet provides all the route mapping you need to walk the entire Two Moors Way:

- Features 1:25,000 Ordnance Survey (OS) mapping for accuracy and clarity
- Covers the full route from Ivybridge to Lynmouth, including both Dartmoor and Exmoor sections
- Compact and portable size, perfect for your jacket pocket or rucksack
- Suitable for walking in either direction, south to north or north to south
- Shows key locations and highlights along the trail, including Dartmoor National Park, Exmoor National Park, Tarr Steps and Withypool
- For step-by-step route descriptions, an accompanying Cicerone guidebook, The Two Moors Way, is also available

Whether you're drawn by wild moorland scenery, peaceful river valleys or the challenge of a classic English long-distance trail, this map booklet helps you plan and enjoy every step of your journey across Dartmoor and Exmoor.

About the author

After gaining a degree in Geography and Archaeology at Exeter University Sue Viccars worked for a London map publisher before grabbing the chance to return to Devon, where she spent 20 years commissioning walking, equestrian and countryside books for David & Charles Publishers. She received her first walking book commission three weeks after going freelance in 2000 and since then has written or contributed to around 20 books (and edited dozens more), specialising in her home territory of southwest England, with particular reference to Dartmoor and Exmoor. She writes the walks for Exmoor: the country magazine, and has been editor of Dartmoor Magazine since 2008.
